

Pigeon Forge, Tennessee, with a permanent population of over 6,000 people, is located within a day's drive of two-thirds of the U.S. population east of the Mississippi River. Due to that convenience, the town welcomes millions of visitors from around the country every year, making it one of the most popular vacation destinations in America. Pigeon Forge is primarily a drive destination, with the majority of visitors coming from within 500 miles of the city.

Tourism is Sevier County's number one industry and economic driver for the area. The Pigeon Forge Department of Tourism handles all tourism-related marketing communications, focusing primarily on leisure and group travel. In 2017, for every dollar spent on advertising, the city generated a record $74 in tourism spending*.
